

BANKROLL CHEAT SHEETS

Members-only quick reference guide

Use these pages before a gambling session to set your bankroll, bet size, stop-loss, win goal, and exit rules. The point is not to beat the casino. The point is to stop letting the casino write your financial autobiography in crayon.

21+ Responsible gambling notice

Educational use only. Gambling involves risk. No worksheet, calculator, strategy, or mildly judgmental PDF can guarantee profit. Follow local laws and never gamble with money needed for bills, food, rent, medication, or anything humans with functioning survival instincts require.

1. BANKROLL RULE SHEET

EDGE OVER LUCK - MEMBERS ONLY

Bankroll is the money you can afford to lose without damaging real life. If losing it creates panic, skipped bills, or creative lies to yourself, it is not bankroll - it is emergency money wearing a fake mustache.

Core Rules

1. Keep session risk separate from total bankroll.
2. Most recreational players should keep a single bet near 1-2% of session bankroll.
3. Set stop-loss before play starts. Do not renegotiate with tilt.
4. Set a win goal or exit point before the first bet.
5. Track time. Volume is the house edge amplifier.

My Bankroll Rules

Total bankroll:

Session budget:

Normal bet size:

Max bet size:

Stop-loss:

Win goal:

Hard leave time:

Quick Bet-Size Pressure

Session Bankroll	1-2% Bet Zone	Risk Warning
$100 bankroll	$1-$2	Over $5 gets ugly fast
$250 bankroll	$2.50-$5	Over $10 adds real pressure
$500 bankroll	$5-$10	Over $25 is aggressive
$1,000 bankroll	$10-$20	Over $50 needs a serious reason

Do Not Use This Money

Rent/bills	Debt payments	Groceries
Medication	Emergency fund	Borrowed money

2. SESSION BUDGET PLANNER

Win goal / leave point:

Planned game(s):

Bet Size Sanity Check

If your planned average bet is more than 5% of your session budget, your bankroll is not "exciting." It is fragile.

Bet as % of budget:

Exit Rule

I will leave at stop-loss.

I will leave at win goal or cool down.

I will not chase losses.

I will not increase bets emotionally.

3. GAME RISK QUICK REFERENCE

Fast Comparison

Game	Main Risk	Better Habit
Blackjack	Lower edge if rules are good and basic strategy is used. Mistakes raise the edge.	Use strategy. Avoid 6:5 blackjack. Watch rules.
Roulette	Every standard bet has negative EV. American double-zero is worse than European.	Prefer lower edge wheels. Skip systems pretending to beat math.
Slots	RTP and volatility drive the ride. Bonus chasing can create brutal dry spells.	Lower bet size. Track total spins and time.
Horse racing	Takeout matters. Value only exists when odds exceed true probability.	Compare price vs estimated chance. Do not bet every race.

4. STOP-LOSS + WIN GOAL WORKSHEET

EDGE OVER LUCK - MEMBERS ONLY

Set the Pain Limit Before Pain Starts

A stop-loss is not a prediction. It is a circuit breaker. You set it while calm because tilted-you is a dumb negotiator with access to money.

Starting session budget:

Stop-loss amount:

Stop-loss as % of budget:

Win goal amount:

Win goal as % of budget:

Mandatory break point:

If I Hit Stop-Loss

I cash out.

I leave the table/machine.

I wait 24 hours before playing again.

I log what happened.

If I Hit Win Goal

I bank profit.

I do not give it all back.

I may continue only with pre-set small amount.

I log why the session worked.

Personal Rule

5. RED FLAGS + SCORE

EDGE OVER LUCK - MEMBERS ONLY

Red Flag Checklist

- Trying to win back losses
- Playing tired or angry
- Raising bets after losing
- Breaking stop-loss
- Using bill money
- Hiding the session
- Gambling because I feel stressed
- Telling myself I am due

Decision Score

Score the decisions, not the outcome. Losing while following the plan can be a clean session. Winning while chasing is still trash with confetti.

My score today: / 100

- Followed bankroll plan
- Stayed under stop-loss
- No emotional bet jumps
- Stopped on time
- Logged the session

One Lesson To Carry Forward

Final Reminder

The casino does not need you to be stupid forever. It only needs you to be stupid for a few minutes with a larger bet size. Plan first. Track honestly. Leave like an adult.
